Feelings are inside of me and my face shows how I feel. These are the ways I feel sometimes.

I look like this when I feel happy.

When my birthday comes near,

---

or when I eat my favorite pizza,
I feel happy.

I look like this when I feel sad.

When I'm sick in bed,

or when I can't play baseball because of rain, I feel sad.

I look like this when I feel proud.

When I get a good grade in school,

or when I ride the bike without falling,
I feel proud.

I look like this when I feel scared.

When the lights go out suddenly,

or when I read stories about ghosts,
I feel scared.

I look like this when I feel angry.

---

When my toy gets broken,

---

or when someone says bad words to me,
I feel angry.

I feel lots of different feelings every day.
