There are four seasons in a year.
Spring, summer, fall, and winter.

When it gets warmer and the leaves sprout on the trees, I know spring is here.

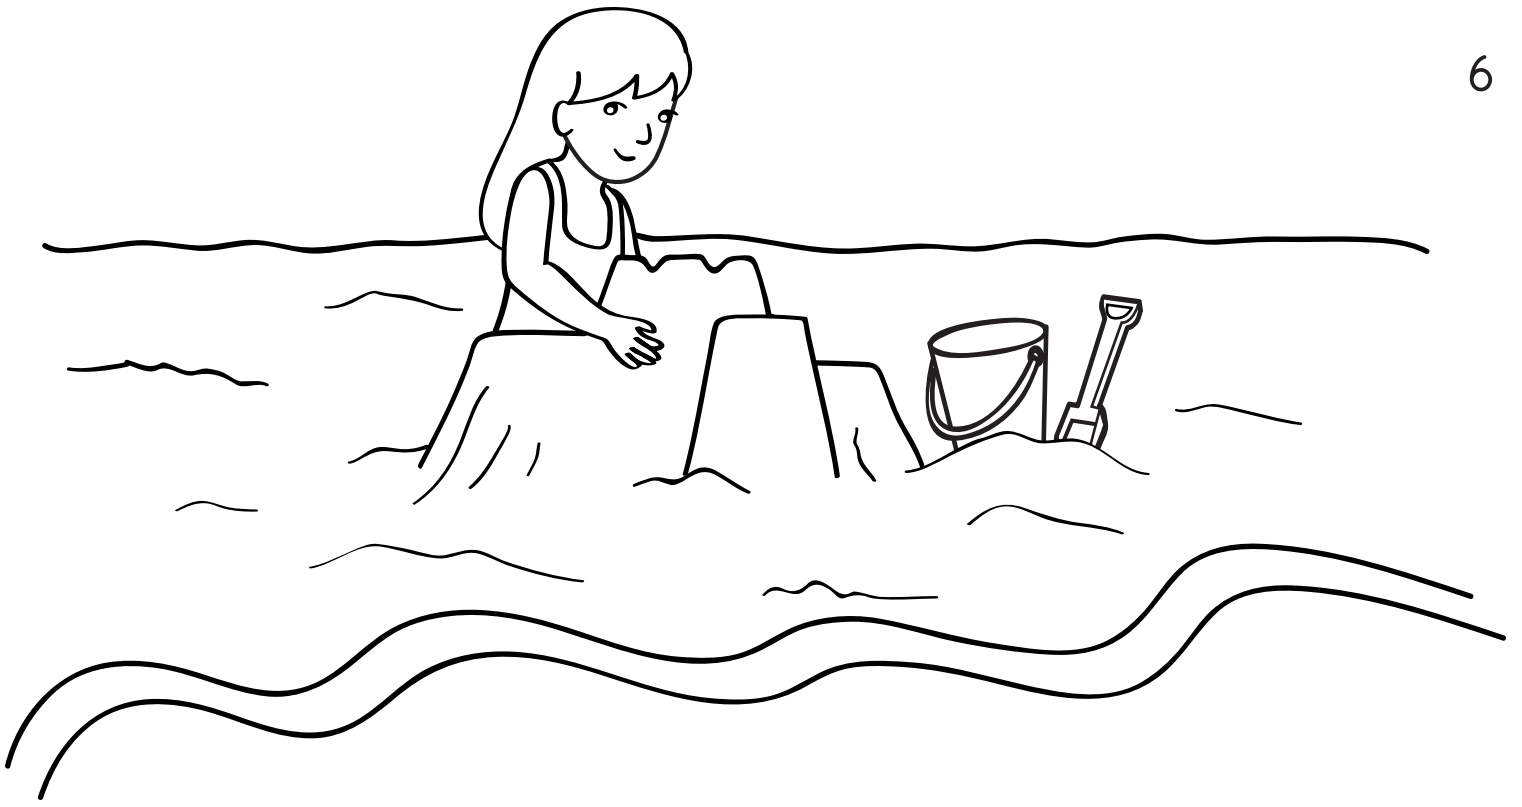

In the springtime, I plant flower seeds in the garden.

I go on a picnic with my family.

When it gets hotter, I know summer is here.

In the summertime, I have fun at the beach.

I also enjoy a lot of cold drinks and ice cream.

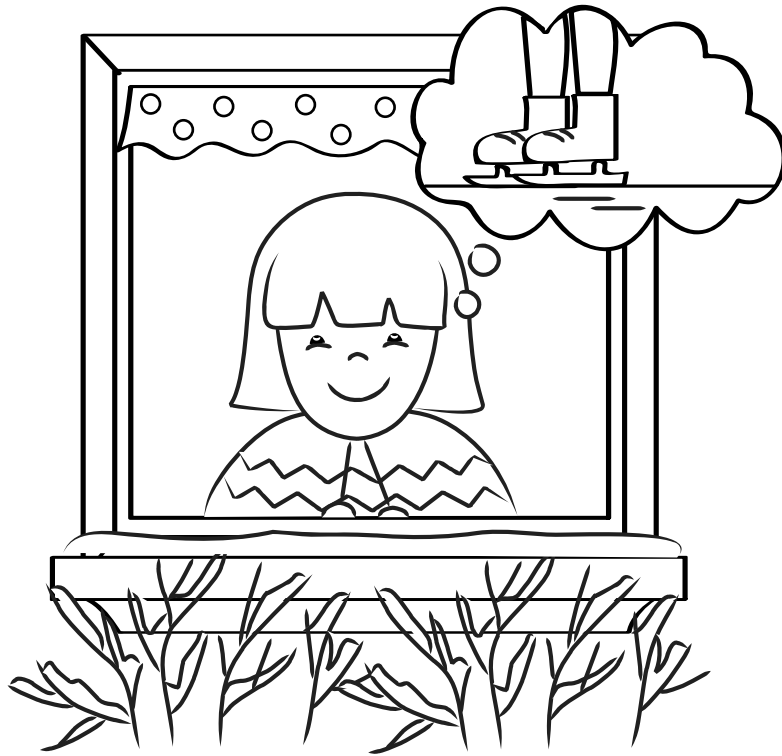

When the days get shorter and the wind becomes cool, I know fall is here.

In fall, I rake the fallen leaves.

I pick apples in the orchard.

When it gets colder and the lake gets frozen,
I know winter is here.

In the wintertime, I sled down a hill.

I make a snowman.

Seasons go round and round.
Spring, summer, fall, and winter.
I love all four seasons.
